Kira for Due Diligence

Faster and More Accurate Due Diligence

Kira is software that, using machine learning, excels at accurately identifying clauses in contracts—even when the wording varies substantially from document to document.

Kira automates the extraction and analysis of key provisions from both structured and unstructured contracts to accelerate and improve the accuracy of the due diligence process. Our customers, who include some of the world's largest corporations and professional services firms, trusted Kira on over $100 billion of transactions in 2015 alone.
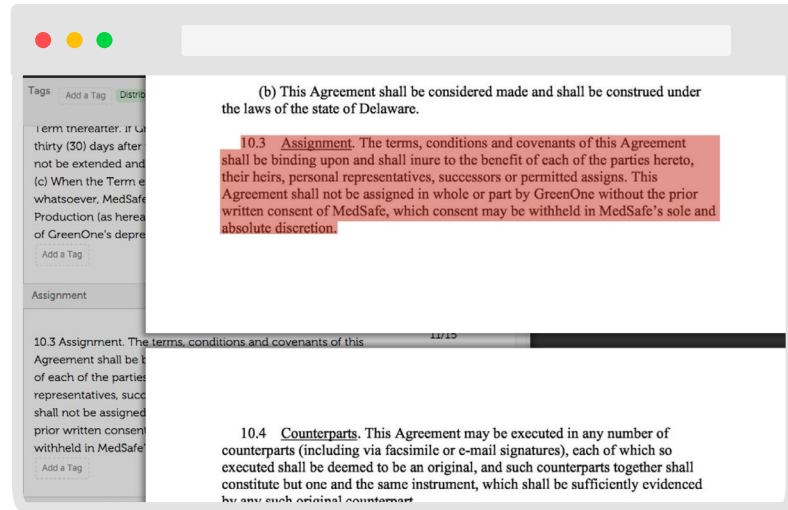

Kira comes ready to find all the provisions commonly reviewed in M&A transactions. Users can further enhance Kira's capabilities by using the Quick Study tool to teach Kira to recognize additional concepts.
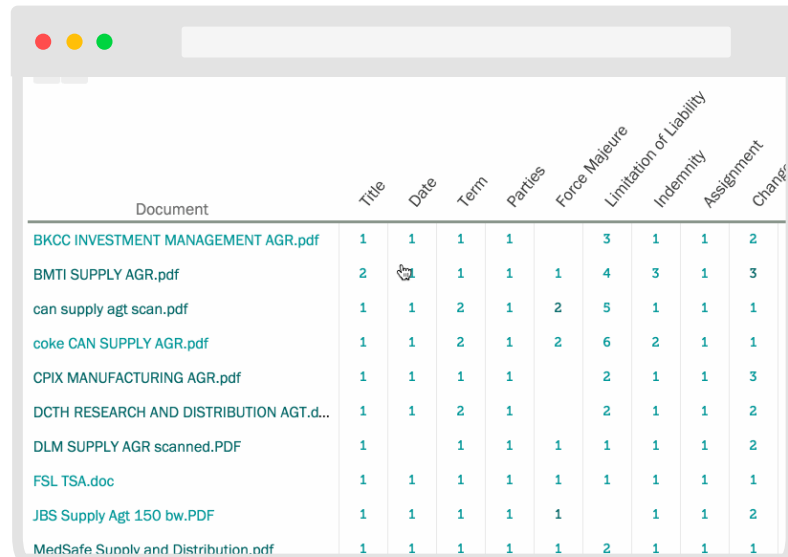

Features
- Automatically handles documents in over 60 file types
- Syncs documents securely from Intralinks® and other systems via API
- Highlights desired provisions on top of the original document and extracts the text to summaries
- Exports summaries in various formats to Word, Excel and to other systems
- Enables flexible workflows with tools such as review assignments, custom tagging and real time collaboration
- Compares documents against a form to help see where changes have been made across an entire pool of agreements

Benefits

- 20–90% reduction in time required to complete contract review and analysis
- Increased accuracy of contract review compared to manual review
- Provide better value to clients by providing a more comprehensive review of contracts

Selected provisions are automatically highlighted and text is pulled into editable summaries.
